Kristy

My baby girl had a photo shoot with Kristy at 9 days old. Kristy is absolutely amazing at what she does and I am so happy we selected her as our newborn photographer. Our session went so smooth and she really provided a great experience. She was able to accommodate all of our requests. All of the photos turned out perfect. I can't even pick a favorite. Kristy has exceeded my expectations and I will 1000% recommend her to everyone I know for newborn photos! I will definitely use her in the future for milestone pictures

the TIMING

The best window for a maternity photoshoot typically falls between 28 and 35 weeks. At this point in pregnancy, the baby bump is beautifully defined, highlighting the stunning silhouette of expectant motherhood.

Each pregnancy journey is distinct—some may choose to capture their announcement photos earlier, whereas others might opt for a later session to ensure their bump is more pronounced. This flexibility ensures that the timing of the photoshoot aligns with the unique progression and personal comfort of every expectant mother.

We recommend to:

Before booking your session, I recommend having a phone consultation to ensure everything goes smoothly. During this call, we will discuss the location. We'll also go over wardrobe choices to ensure you feel comfortable and confident. This conversation is an opportunity to address any questions or concerns you might have, ensuring that your session is perfectly tailored to your needs and expectations.

- Schedule well before your due date to stay on schedule.

Baby milestone sessions have two options:

Studio baby milestone sessions, held at my Wilmington studio for ages 3 months to one year cake smash or on location an hour before sunset. It is recommended to do a Mommy and me outdoor session for the 3 to 6 month stage (when they are not sitting up on their own). Milestone sessions have a variety of poses and color choices. For babies not sitting up on their own yet, we will do tummy time, back time and help them sit up by placing them in props for support if you are not wanting to be in them.

$650 with or without a cake smash

Whats included:

20-30 edited images delivered via online gallery for 3-6 months session

30-40+ edited images sent via online gallery for 9-12 months

WHEN TO BOOK YOUR MILESTONE SESSION?

While there's never a wrong time to step in front of the camera with your little one, the first few years offer some of the most tender, memorable stages to document.

Early Milestones

3 - 5 Months

This is a wonderful time to plan a motherhood session. Babies are typically alert and able to hold their heads up, but still calm and easy to pose. At this age, you'll get soft expressions, early interactions, and sweet snuggles—some of the most tender moments to capture.

6-9 Months

The sitting stage is one of the best times to photograph your baby. They can sit up independently but aren't quite on the move, making them easy to capture. This age is perfect for showing off chubby cheeks, baby rolls, and joyful, engaging expressions—ideal for a Mommy & Me session.

Evolving Connection

1 Year

One-year-olds are full of personality and energy. They love to explore their surroundings, creating the perfect opportunity for playful, candid moments filled with wonder and joy. Be prepared for movement, spontaneity, and a whole lot of fun—we'll capture it all beautifully, just as it unfolds.

2 Years and Beyond

As your little one grows, so does their ability to connect and express emotion. Toddlers may even sit still for short periods and follow gentle direction. Sessions at this stage feel more interactive and emotional, capturing the evolving bond between mother and child in a truly special way.

As their little world gets bigger, so does the magic we can capture. These sessions are full of giggles, movement, and tiny glimpses of who they're becoming—real, tender moments you'll never want to forget.

FAQ

What is included for newborn sessions? Do I need to bring anything?

Everything is included for your newborn session for Mom and baby. So the only thing for you to bring is a shirt for Dad and siblings and I will help you coordinate.

Do You Provide Wardrobe?

My studio offers a neutral wardrobe collection, so that you can build upon it for the rest of the family members.

When should I book my newborn session?

I recommend booking within your 2nd or 3rd trimester so that we all have time to prepare and you have the time to read through my prep guide, ask any questions that may come up. Setting a date around your due date is best and I like to see them around the 2 week mark. We will adjust once baby arrives.

What if my baby is older than the suggested time frame?

There are always poses and sets we can do for older babies, they may not fit into every pose or prop but there is never a wrong time to preserve where they are at. I will never turn someone away if their baby is not at the 2 week age.

When should I receive my image gallery?

You should expect to see an email with all the instructions on downloading and preserving your files within 2-3 weeks after your session. You can also add on prints and products once your gallery is sent if you did not add them at the initial session booking.
